

COOKIE POLICY

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files which are placed on your computer or mobile phone when you visit a website. They are widely used in order to make websites work or to work more efficiently and can be used to provide information to the owners of the site.

You can find more information about cookies and how to manage them on your computer at: www.allaboutcookies.org.

We may use the following types of cookies

Essential cookies: These cookies are necessary for our website to function. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website, and to use online forms.

Analytical cookies: These cookies enable us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.

Third party cookies: These cookies sent to your computer from a domain that is not managed by us, but by another entity that processes data obtained through cookies. For example, we use Google Analytics cookies to measure the traffic in our website. See below table for the list of Third Party Cookies used on this website.
